DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) The invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4, 8, 12-14, 23, 26, 27, 30, 33, and 35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by United States Patent 5,653,748 Strecker.

Strecker discloses the same invention being a prosthetic delivery device (10) comprising a flexible elongated member (11) having proximal and distal ends, a means for releasably securing an expandable stent prosthesis (15). The device further comprises a crocheted material (14) including a thread having a plurality of loops, a trigger pull release (24), and a visual marker comprising a colored loop (20) extending around the flexible member. The last loop 20 disclosed by Strecker is visually distinct from the remainder of the loops because of its crocheted looped shape. Each loop has a clear beginning and end located further down the prosthesis thereby making them each visually distinguishable by the operator.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3738

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 as being unpatentable over United States Patent 5,653,748 Strecker in view of United States Patent 5,480,423

Ravenscroft.

Strecker discloses the invention substantially as claimed being described above. However, Strecker does not disclose that his prosthesis expands to a larger radius and a shorter length upon implantation Ravenscroft teaches the use of a prosthetic delivery device comprising a length shortening self-expanding stent in the same field of endeavor for the purpose of providing a concentrated expansion force within a body lumen, shown best in figures 2a – 2f.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the stent of Ravenscroft with the delivery device of Strecker in order to provide a concentrated expansion force within a body lumen, which can be accurately tracked by the operator throughout the insertion process.

In regards to claim 10 the claim recites that the visual marker only needs to be attached to “one of” the distal extremity of the flexible elongate member and the prosthesis a distance from one of the first and second ends of the prosthesis equal to the second length. In view of this broad limitation Strecker discloses a visual marker attached to the distal end of the flexible member. By meeting the criteria of the first option the location of the marker with respect to the shortening of the stent is irrelevant.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 7/18/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that neither Strecker nor Ravenscroft disclose a visual marker overlying the stent intermediate the first and second ends. However the visual marker of Strecker is located on top of the stent and extending between the distal and proximal most ends of the stent as shown in figure 1. In view of the amendments the visual markers of Ravenscroft are no longer used in the combination disclosed above.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
